

ELEMENTARY STORY

Skit Notes: No Walking!

Rebecca Locklear

Summary: At Pumice Rock Elementary, you have to RUN in the hallways. Walking is not allowed. What happens to Mason and Ryan when they forget to run? How can they remember to run and not walk?

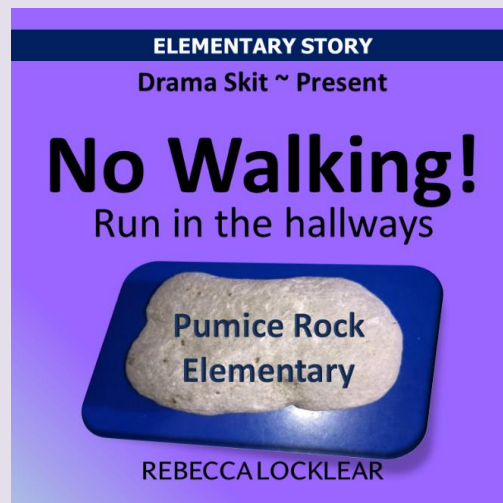

Cast of Characters	# of Lines
Narrator	4
Mason, in trouble for walking in the hall	12
Ryan, in trouble for walking in the hall	10
Girl 1, a student	6
Girl 2, friends with Girl 1	4
Teacher 1	8
Teacher 2	1

Setting: Third grade classroom.

Performance Time: 3 minutes

Background Information

After hearing teachers yell out the word, “walk,” all through the school day, it was time to have a school where students were required to run in the hallways.

No Walking!

Rebecca Locklear

NARRATOR: Far, far away, in a land under a clear blue sky, stood Pumice Rock Elementary School. It was known for its policy of.....no walking in the hallways!

MASON (sitting in a classroom, to RYAN) Do you think we'll have to stay here through recess?

RYAN: (standing) Probably. It's your fault for talking about eyelashes! (sits, sulks)

GIRL 1: (enters classroom at a run) Hey guys. What are you in trouble for?

MASON: Walking. We were walking upstairs, talking about owls and their eyelashes. You know – the book There's an Owl in the Shower? A duty teacher caught us walking and sent us here. (slumps)

GIRL 2: If you could just remember to run up the stairs, and run down the stairs, and run to all our specials, you wouldn't get in trouble. Think of it this way. When you run, you get healthy and your heart gets stronger.

GIRL 1: And you guys are into sports. You'll have stronger leg muscles.

GIRL 2: We are the healthiest school in the district, you know.

GIRL 1: (to GIRL 2) Come on. Let's go. (GIRLS exit at a run)

© Rebecca Locklear

CONTINUED!!

WHERE IS THIS SKIT OFTEN USED?

- Elementary reading classes
- Drama showcases

REBECCA LOCKLEAR

www.rebeccalocklear.com

History with English, Latin, drama, music, art